3rd ANNOUNCEMENT BROCHURE

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Colleagues, friends and mental health advocates,

Greetings from the President's desk!

I have immense pleasure in announcing the 77th annual conference of the Indian Psychiatry Society (ANCIPS) being held in Delhi on Jan 28th-31st, 2026. This is the most prestigious national event and a largest congregation of psychiatrists from India and abroad who meet annually to share their thoughts, work, research and innovations, for mutual exchange and learning. This is also an opportunity to build professional and social networks, academic collaborations, brain storming and exploring new vistas for research and patient care.

This year's theme, "Unshackling Psychiatry for Society's Mental Health", is both critical and provocative. The discipline of psychiatry and its clinical practice is shackled under centuries old historical traditions and mindset, and needs to be unshackled by embracing the 21st century science, that has brought psychiatry much closer to physical medicine. Mental health care systems, laws, and public image of psychiatry must change in favor of it being a core medical discipline, that will remove stigma, increase acceptability and access to treatment. I am sure there will be high quality discussions, debates and guidance through a rigorously planned and curated scientific program on various topics and themes related to psychiatry and its specialties.

The venue of the conference will be 'YASHOBHOOMI', India International Convention & Expo Center (IICC), Dwarka, Delhi. This is one of the most prestigious convention facility in the national capital with the world class convention facilities, and will surely provide an exquisite conference experience to participants and delegates. Moreover, Delhi provides a lot more than just the conference event in terms of history and culture, sight- seeing and shopping, food and entertainment, diversity and unity of India.

The organising team led by Dr Nimesh Desai along with Dr Deepak Raheja, Dr J M Wadhawan and Dr Pankaj Kumar are working very hard to plan and put together all the arrangements for your comfort and convenience. We are sure that this will be one of the memorable conferences.

On behalf of the executive council of the IPS and my own behalf as President of IPS, I am delighted and honored to invite you all to this great event making the conference a great success, and making the IPS strong and proud.

We look forward to welcome you and see you at the ANCIPS in Jan 2026 in Delhi.

With best wishes and warm regards,

DR. SAVITA MALHOTRA
President
Indian Psychiatric Society

FROM HON. GENERAL SECRETARY

Dear Colleagues, friends and mental health advocates,

There's something truly magical about ANCIPS. It's not just a conference—it's a celebration of minds and hearts coming together with a shared purpose: to transform the way we see, speak about, and serve mental health.

As ANCIPS 2026 comes to life in the historic and ever-evolving city of Delhi, I find myself filled with hope, pride, and a deep sense of connection to our larger mission. In these times of rapid change and awakening, we are reminded that true progress in mental health care comes not just from clinical expertise, but from empathy, courage, and imagination. As Audre Lorde so powerfully said, "The master's tools will never dismantle the master's house."

To break old patterns, we must create new ones—with openness, with compassion, and with a willingness to listen to voices that have long gone unheard.

This year's venue—Yashobhoomi, IICC Dwarka—with its grand architecture and cutting-edge facilities, offers the perfect setting for meaningful conversations and transformative ideas. But beyond the walls and auditoriums, it is our spirit of togetherness that will make ANCIPS 2026 truly unforgettable.

To the incredible organising team—Dr. Nimesh Desai, Dr. Deepak Raheja, Dr. J. M. Wadhawan, and Dr. Pankaj Kumar—your vision, dedication, and warmth are already shaping this event into something extraordinary.

Let us gather not just to learn, but to connect. Not just to speak, but to listen. And not just to reflect, but to reimagine the future of mental health in India.

With warmth and solidarity,

DR. AMRIT PATTOJOSHI
Hon. General Secretary
Indian Psychiatric Society

FROM ORGANISING COMMITTEE

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Greetings from the Organising Committee of ANCIPS 2026!

It is with great enthusiasm and deep commitment that we present to you the Third Announcement Brochure for the 77th Annual National Conference of the Indian Psychiatric Society (ANCIPS 2026), to be held from 28th to 31st January 2026, at the Yashobhoomi - India International Convention and Expo Centre (IICC), New Delhi.

As we approach the final leg of preparations, we are proud to share the progress that has been made and the exciting developments underway.

We have received an overwhelming response to our call for symposia, workshops, free papers, and e-posters. A lineup of renowned international and national faculty is already confirmed, promising cutting-edge insights and thought-provoking discussions. We are honored to host thought leaders in psychiatry, neuroscience, public health, ensuring a global perspective throughout the conference.

Detailed layouts and operational planning for all halls, plenaries, breakout rooms, and exhibition areas have been finalized at Yashobhoomi - India International Convention and Expo Centre (IICC). Hotel tie-ups across categories already in process, ensuring convenient and comfortable stay options for delegates and faculty, with shuttle services being arranged for easy connectivity. Mobile app are under development to ensure smooth registration process, live updates, digital access to the program, delegate interaction, and certificate downloads.

We invite you to join us for ANCIPS 2026—not only to gain knowledge but also to contribute to shaping the future of psychiatry in India. Let us come together to reflect, redefine, and revolutionize the way we understand and support mental health. A platform to reflect critically, act boldly, and shape the future of psychiatry in India.

We invite each one of you to be a part of this transformative journey. Together, we move toward a more compassionate, just, and responsive mental health ecosystem.

We look forward to welcoming you in the heart of India's capital for an unforgettable academic and cultural experience!

About YASHOBHOOMI (IICC)

VENUE

Yashobhoomi, Asia's largest and the world's third-largest convention centre, is a remarkable synergy of modern architecture, sustainable design, and traditional Indian aesthetics. This is a proud moment as ANCIPS 2026 will be hosted for the first time at one of the world's most iconic and state-of-the-art convention venues.

Delhi, the capital of India, is a city that beautifully blends history, culture, and modern development. Steeped in centuries of heritage, it is home to iconic monuments, bustling markets, and diverse communities. From the ancient charm of Old Delhi to the urban sophistication of New Delhi, the city reflects the spirit of a nation that honors its past while embracing the future. As a political, cultural, and economic powerhouse, Delhi plays a pivotal role on both national and international stages. Its continuous growth in infrastructure, connectivity, and global outreach solidifies its place as one of the world's great metropolitan cities.

Key features and details about Yashobhoomi include: Location: Situated in Dwarka, which is a well-developed area in South West Delhi, close to the airport and major transportation hubs.

ANCIPS 2026 will be featuring in the multiple convention halls, exhibition spaces, meeting rooms, and a large auditorium, designed to accommodate international conferences, exhibitions, and events.

It is expected to have state-of-the-art infrastructure, including digital solutions, high-speed internet, and advanced audiovisual setups. There will be hotels and accommodation options within or around the complex to serve the needs of international delegates and visitors.

Size and Scale:

The complex is vast and has been designed to host large-scale events, making it one of the largest convention centers in India.

It has high capacity for events ranging from conferences to exhibitions, business summits, and cultural programs.

During ANCIPS 2026 delegates will be having good connectivity to the Indira Gandhi International Airport. Delegates will have excellent connectivity to the metro and road networks.

Yashobhoomi is seen as a significant infrastructure project aimed at strengthening Delhi's position as a global meeting point for business, culture, and international collaboration. It aligns with India's broader objectives to boost its presence in the global business ecosystem and enhance its attractiveness as a destination for global events.

Yashobhoomi has emerged as a proud stage for some of the world's grandest events that inspire, connect, and celebrate excellence — including SATTE 2025, Paint India 2025, World Congress of Nephrology 2025, India Energy Week 2025, APAIE 2025, IIGF 2025, Art Asia Delhi 2025, India EV International Show 2024, RSSDI 2024, and the Global Summit 2023.

Connectivity to YASHOBHOOMI

Welcome to Yashobhoomi – The Grand Stage for ANCIPS 2026!

Delhi is rolling out world-class connectivity to make your journey as seamless as your stay.

Dwarka Expressway: A 10 km marvel that eases Delhi–Gurugram traffic, connects directly to Yashobhoomi, and even offers a cutting-edge 8-lane tunnel with a 10-lane flyover above. Smooth, fast, futuristic! Dwarka Expressway brings you straight from the city and IGI Airport to Yashobhoomi, with a 16-lane road, metro access, and a spectacular 3.6 km tunnel – a true engineering wonder.

Urban Extension Road-II (UER-II): Spanning 66 km, it links key highways and cities – from Sonipat and Bahadurgarh to Chandigarh, Punjab, and J&K – right up to Delhi’s heart. With 6 multi-level interchanges and 10,000+ trees preserved, it’s eco-friendly connectivity at its best. UER-II weaves together highways, towns, and states – linking Rohtak, Hisar, Sonipat, Panipat, Punjab & J&K directly to Delhi. Built sustainably with recycled materials and green cover intact, it’s where eco-consciousness meets convenience.

WHAT THIS MEANS FOR YOU:

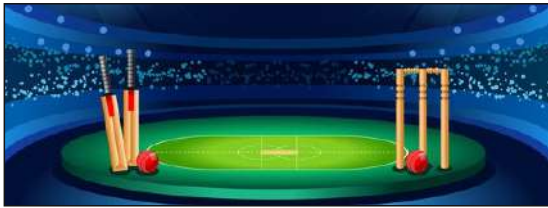

- Stay at premium hotels in Aerocity, just minutes away.
- Easy access to premium hotels in Gurugram, South Delhi, and Central Delhi (Connaught Place).
- Quicker access for delegates from Punjab, Haryana & nearby cities.
- Effortless links between South Delhi, Gurugram & North Delhi.

With world-class connectivity and world-class hospitality, Yashobhoomi, one of the largest and hi-tech Convention Centre in the world, is ready to welcome ANCIPS 2026 delegates.
